DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed on 07/11/2006 have been entered. Claims 1-3,6-14,16-18,20-29,31-33,35-39,41-45 and 47-53 are pending.

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 33, 34-36, 45, 47-48, 52 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 33-36, 45-48, 52 and 53 are directed to a computer related method of computation that produces a result merely a number. In order for a claimed invention that is directed to such a computer implemented method to be statutory, the claimed invention must accomplish a practical application. That is the claimed invention must transform an article or physical object to a different state or thing, or produce a useful, concrete and tangible result. State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373-74, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02. Also see "Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Patent Subject Matter Eligibility", OG Notices: 22 November 2005. It is clear from the claims that the method does not transform an article or physical object to a different state or thing. The input are numbers and the output is also a number. Further, the claimed method does not produce a real-world result since the final result is a mere number without a practical application recited in the claims that make the result useful, concrete and tangible. Therefore, the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter as the claims fail to assert a practical application to the method.

4. Claims 1-3,6-14,16-18,20-29,31,32,37-39,41-44 and 49-51 are allowed.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Chuong D. Ngo whose telephone number is (571) 272-3731. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday-Friday.
